* Testing will take place 3-5 days prior to camp. As conditions evolve, we will review best practices and share updates with enrolled families.

We ask that families take the following precautions at home to help create a safe bubble at camp for our community and to lower the risk that COVID-19 enters camp.

At-Home Quarantine

- COVID-19 has an incubation period of 4-10 days, so limiting in-person interactions to only those you live with significantly lowers the risk of exposure.
- Quarantine should be restricted to members of the household only. No physical contact with anyone outside of the household unless absolutely necessary.
- If any member of the household leaves the house, they need to practice social distancing: wearing a mask, staying 6 feet away from other people, and washing hands with soap and water frequently.
- After the COVID-19 test is conducted, the camper should have NO contact with anyone outside of their household.
- If your camper or a household member starts to exhibit any COVID-19 symptoms, contact camp immediately.

At-Home Screening

- Camp families need to complete a pre-arrival self-screening tool during the quarantine period prior to their arrival at camp and provide it to the camp during check-in procedures.

Travel to/from Camp

- Under the current state guidelines, personal transportation is the only way staff and families can travel to camp. You will be responsible for driving your child directly to camp with minimal exposures for urgent stops only. More details will be provided in the camper and staff handbooks.
- Campers and staff also need to have their own transportation to return home.

Pre-Camp COVID-19 Testing

- Per state guidelines, all staff and campers will be required to submit a negative PCR test conducted within the 3-5 days prior to arriving at camp.
- Please contact us if you need assistance in obtaining a COVID-19 test.

COVID-19 Testing at Camp

- Current guidelines require all campers and staff be tested upon arrival at camp and again on their seventh day at camp.
- Additional tests may take place if the camper/staff or any close contacts have exhibited any COVID-19 symptoms.
